Director's Meeting

Friday, 20 July 1951

25X1

Mr. Wolf remarked that we had amateurs trying to do a professional job in procurement. The Director stated that General [redacted] was the best procurement man in the army and that he would call him.

The DCI stated that [redacted], (Mr. Dulles knows him,) might be just the man to do a one-time job this time, although he might need careful watching.

The DCI stated that there was a great need for general field inspection and that we might possibly take on [redacted] for this job. Mr. [redacted] thinks that [redacted] is very strong on substantive intelligence matters and is a good administrator. He also thinks that [redacted] might be a possible successor for Dr. Millikan if Millikan has to leave. The DCI, however, believes that he would be a high-level trouble shooter.

In relation to the above, Mr. Wolf wants someone to examine the foreign field from the administrative point of view. The DCI agrees.
